Feedback

- The summer camp's preparation

Everyone was satisfied with the location, Dangchuan being very quiet, green and mountainous. The number of children was appropriate but could have been up to 35 and the materials were all adequate and sufficient. The duration of the summer camp was considered a little short by many and could last one or two more days.

- Body expression by Isy

Aiming to get the children to come out of their shell, she devised several exercises which were completely new to them. It taught them how to interact better with others and helped the shyer ones.

- Land Art by Wen Fang

Out of the school, Wen Fang introduced environmental art to 6 children and produced some earthworks with them.

Multisport activities by Steven

Everyday, the children practiced various outdoor sports.

Handicraft workshop by Gwen

In this activity the children each made a photophore and created their own salt dough's object.

Paper Art workshop by Shen Hui

With paper children made hats, masks, animals...

Music & Songs by Felix & Etienne

To start the day, the children learned songs in chinese and english.

- The children

The children were a real delight and the staff found them to be kind, disciplined and enthusiastic, as well as easy to deal with. The number of children seemed appropriate (16 girls/ 14 boys + 1 teacher's daughter). Over the course of the week, we noticed a real change in the behaviour of the few children who are usually shy, who gradually opened up, integrated the group well, and just had lots of fun!

The staff

Each member of staff had their own responsibilities, which were complementary with the rest of the team's, thus creating a balanced and harmonious work environment.

The activities organised by the French and the Chinese staff were complementary and all took part in the final day's show.

This Summer Camp would not have been possible without Carrefour Global sourcing's generous funding, both in cash and in-kind.

Decathlon Shanghai kindly offered all the bedding and A Pleines Mains, APM carried everything from Shanghai to Gansu.

Many thanks to the Tianshui Bureau of Education & Dangchuan school and headmaster.

Summer Camp 2019

All the conditions are met for us to start planning for next year's summer camp. We will increase slightly the number of children and make the camp last one or two more days.

I want to thank those teachers for giving us knowledge and for their concern and love for us.

Everything made me happy!

I lived happily in this summer camp for a few days!
